

CHECKLIST

United Nations/Japan Long-term Fellowship Programme “Post-graduate study on Nano-Satellite Technologies (PNST)”

The following documents should be sent by the deadline to the United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs as indicated in the information note:

- PNST Nomination Form. Duly completed by the applicant and certified on behalf of the nominating institution by the certifying officer*.
- PNST Application Form. Duly completed by the applicant.
- MEXT Application Form for Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho: MEXT) Scholarship. Duly completed by the applicant.
- MEXT Form Field of Study and Study Program. Duly completed by the applicant.
- Diploma certificates. Scanned copies of the official education certificate(s) of Bachelor, Master or higher degree(s) and the official translation of these documents in English.
- Academic transcripts. Scanned copies of the official academic transcripts indicating the subjects and examination grades (marks) received in each subject in undergraduate and higher courses and the official translation of these documents in English.
- Diploma or certificate of English language competence. This diploma/certificate shall be issued by an accredited language institution or by the local UNDP office upon satisfactory establishment of the applicant's English language competence.
- Curriculum vitae. Signed and dated by applicant.

The Referee reports should be sent by email to the United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs by the referees themselves. Three referee reports are required and one of the referees should be the employment or study supervisor of the applicant.

- Referee report 1
- Referee report 2
- Referee report 3

NOTE: The application is only considered valid if all the information requested is provided.

*The certifying officer shall not be lower in rank than the Head of the applicant's Department, Institution or Ministry. For the case of a university, the certifying officer shall be a Dean or higher. The certifying officer attests the bona fide status of the applicant in his/her institution.